Modern Rosewood

Sleek graphic lines give this rosewood urn its contemporary feel. Skillful artisan crafting brings out the beautiful rosewood grain, and hand finishing means no two urns are alike. A slide-out base ensures a secure closure. Made from eco-friendly, plantation-grown trees, in sizes for small to large pets.

Carved Rosewood

This rosewood urn features handcrafted artisan carvings on the top and sides, so no two urns are alike. A slide-out base ensures a secure closure. Made from sustainable, plantation-grown trees, in sizes for small to large pets.

Eco-Earth

This unique biodegradable urn is made from the bark of a mulberry tree. Mulberry trees regenerate their bark, so the tree is never harmed. It will look beautiful on a shelf for years, or it can be buried and will return gently to the earth. Available in all pet sizes, with a personalized gold name plate.

A note on rosewood

Like any natural material, wood varies in color, tone and grain. Some pieces may finish a little darker or lighter. These differences are what make each rosewood urn so unique.

Nutrient Rich Water

Aquamation serves a greater purpose: giving new life to the earth. Along with your pet's remains in a custom urn, Platinum families receive nutrient-rich water, the natural essence of their companion.

Many families pour it into the soil of a garden, a tree or a house plant, helping their pet live on as new life. Knowing their pet gets to live on brings a sense of peace and healing.

THE PROCESS

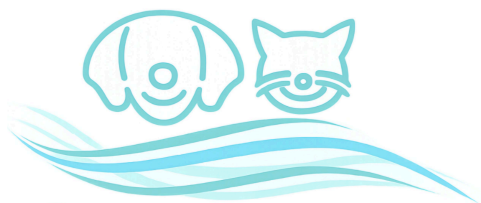

From our care, back to nature

IS IT SAFE?

Natural and clean

- The alkali is natural and biodegradable, made from the same sodium and potassium salts found in everyday soaps and foods.
- It breaks down medications and pathogens into harmless components.
- The nutrient-rich water left behind can nourish the earth as a natural fertilizer.
